In the city of Regims one drug stone filled 609 prescriptions for future during the month of July. Supposing the druggist's profit to have been $3 on each prescription, his annual monus from the source alone must be in the neighborhood of $95,000.

And it is quite presumable that if 699 liquor prescriptions were "recorded," consulerable zore of the same was shifted off on the coprocess's unofficially.
